

Westpac employee likely aided fraud

Margaret Scheikowski | The Daily Telegraph | December 28, 2010 6:48am

A+ A- Print Share

Recommend Confirm

You recommend this. Undo · Admin Page · Insights · Error
You recommend this Sign Up to see what your friends

0 tweet

Share

Fraud victim ... Many of Westpac's customers were victims of Ersever Toksoz's $1.1 million fraud

Source: The Daily Telegraph

A WESTPAC employee probably helped an identity fraudster steal more than $1.1 million, a judge has found.

Westpac Banking Corporation took civil action in the NSW Supreme Court, claiming that Sydney man Ersever Toksoz, also known as Gino Versace, was the chief architect of the frauds.

In a decision last Thursday, Justice George Palmer concluded Mr Toksoz was "directly and actively involved in each of the frauds on the 27 victims".

He entered judgment against Mr Toksoz for $868,655 plus interest.

Justice Palmer also found that $742,836 of those funds was deposited into accounts held by Gulay Toksoz, his wife during the relevant period.

"It follows that, of her remaining assets, both in cash and in real estate, assets to the value of $742,836, together with accrued interest, are held by Mrs Toksoz on trust for the bank."

RELATED COVERAGE

Fraudsters nick \$600m from taxpayers Courier Mail, 1 hour ago

How fraudsters cost taxpayers \$600m The Daily Telegraph, 13 hours ago

Fifth person charged for \$100m bank scam Adelaide Now, 5 days ago

Between February 2005 and October 2007 Westpac was defrauded of more than $1.1 million.

"The addresses and telephones numbers of 27 bank customers were changed to addresses and numbers used by the fraudsters so that debit cards, credit cards and banking details of the customers could be diverted to the fraudsters and used to misappropriate the customers' money," the judge said.

As soon as the frauds were discovered, Westpac reimbursed the funds taken from the customers' accounts.

NEWS LIMITED
Click here To find out how we've become carbon neutral

Find us on Facebook

Adelaide Now
Like Confirm
You like this. Unlike Page · Insig
You like this. Unlike Page · Insig
21,155 people like Adelaide Now . 21,154 people like Adelaide Now .
Dani Courtney Mark

Facebook social plugin

Recommendations

Create an account or log in to see what your friends are recommending.

Two boys missing in Iron Knob
232 people shared this.

Unchanged Adelaide fits the cinematic bill for Perth - circa 1986
241 people shared this.

Flash dancers mob the Mall
202 people shared this.

Facebook social plugin

SPONSORED LINKS

Making property investment easy. Invest in secure worry-free property with DHA. Celebrity news and video! Up to the minute celebrity gossip, photos & celebrity videos

New arrest in laundering investigation The Australian, 9 days ago

Millionaires cautioned over bank fraud Adelaide Now, 10 days ago

Some of the misappropriated funds were discovered before they were disbursed to the fraudsters and were recovered by the bank.

Most of the frauds related to telephone banking, where the supposed customer was asked to be given a new access code.

The judge said there was no evidence as to how Mr Toksoz, or the person acting with him, knew the correct answers to questions designed to verify the caller's identity.

"That remains a matter of speculation," he said.

"It is highly probable that an employee of the bank was an accomplice in the frauds and supplied the information."

In concluding Mr Toksoz was the fraudster - undoubtedly helped by others - the judge noted CCTV evidence showing him making withdrawals and purchases on fraudulently procured credit cards.

Addresses of victims were changed to addresses associated with Mr Toksoz.

No explanation was given for the deposits of large sums of money into the accounts of Mr Toksoz, Mrs Toksoz and G-Star Solutions Pty Ltd, their company, the judge also noted.

Print Email Share Recommend Confirm You recommend this. Undo Admin Page Insights Error 0 tweet in Share

Back to top of page

Ads by Google™

Prevent & Report Crimes Help The NSW Crime Stoppers & Keep Our Communities & Families Safe www.Police.NSW.gov.au/Crime_Report

Loss Or Stolen Card? Protect Yourself & Reduce The Risk Of Theft. Visit Us & Find Out More! SecureSentinel.com.au/CardFraud

Free Practice Account Want to learn more about cfd's? We can help. Learn More www.GFT.com.au

MORE RELATED COVERAGE

- Alleged fraudster 'stole dead man's ID' Courier Mail, 22 Mar 2011
Crime gangs dupe banks with new tricks The Australian, 17 Mar 2011
$2m bank error exposed boy's fraud Courier Mail, 1 Mar 2011
Bank ethics on trial in Madoff case The Australian, 3 Dec 2010
Banks' fraud warning 'six weeks late' Courier Mail, 22 Mar 2011
Employee theft on the rise The Australian, 17 Mar 2011
More related coverage
Related Searches Superintendent Garry O'Dell, Fraud Barometer, Gary Gill

Breaking news video! Watch the latest Local and National breaking news

NEWS More News

Girl, 12, fights off attacker

A 12-YEAR-OLD girl has fought off an attacker by punching him in the face after he assaulted her in a Salisbury Park reserve.

- Power: Motlop fined $300 for swearing
Debate: Treasurer 'wants Oval to fail'
Shocking crash: Car flies off highrise carpark
Robert Logan: Vampire cannibal jailed for life

SPORT More Sport

Knee clean out for Cassisi

POWER captain Dom Cassisi has found a bright side to his right-knee injury - it could have been worse.

- Houston Open: Mickelson hangs on for victory
Bulldogs: Obst has surgery on broken jaw
MotoGP: Stoner lets fly after wipe-out
Sydney: Seeböhm leaves nothing in the tank

Advertisement

LATEST PHOTO GALLERIES

Will and Kate: A royal wedding... in Lego

It the fairytale royal wedding the way you had always hoped to see it - made out of Lego.

More Photo Galleries

NEWS LIMITED Click here To find out how we've become carbon neutral

Advertisement